4 Ways to Increase Cider Production, Storage Capacity and Revenue

Topline

- Craft cidermakers face unique challenges when it comes to fermentation and storage.
- Today, there are proven, award-winning, food-grade vessels designed specifically for cidermakers to help them simplify the production process and deliver consistent results.
- Cideries can increase capacity and reduce operational costs by using modern O2-permeable vessels that provide cidermakers with a more cost-effective and sustainable production and storage solution.

Best Practices to Increase Your Cider Production

1. Utilize Food-Grade / Oxygen-Permeable Vessels
   The most efficient cidermaking vessels are created with food-grade, Oxygen-permeable materials. These vessels can be used in all stages of your cidermaking process and ensure your cider's flavor remains true.
2. Egg-actly: Vortex Vessels Speed Fermentation
   Award-winning cidermakers agree: Apollo egg-shaped vessels are the best shape for producing complex ciders more quickly and efficiently. Apollo and stackable vessels are available in multiple sizes and will accommodate both small-batch and large-scale production.

3. Improve Efficiency, Capacity, Turnarounds
   Streamlined design minimizes cleaning time and optimizes production so you can achieve faster turnarounds. Cidermakers can easily expand capacity and space use.
4. Reduce Capital Costs with Durable, Lightweight, Stackable Vessels
   Modern cidermaking vessels are built to last, have low up-front capital cost, and are lightweight, easy to move, clean and stack. These vessels provide a practical choice for operations of any size.

Bottom Line Solution

- Flextanks last more than 25 years, are utilized by more than 5,000 craft beverage producers worldwide, are lightweight and can be used in all cider processes.
- Have adjustable oxygen-permeation – for controllable beverage development.
- Are Award-Winning – Hundreds of craft beverage makers have won industry awards using Flextank

Flextank can help you increase your capacity and as a result, your revenue. It's easy to get started: Just give us a call at + 1-360-450-2694. Or simply fill out the form HERE. We'll help you make it happen.
